writ, said that Oakes had procured the incarceration of his wife in Dr. D. A. Harrison's sanitarium, at Breezehurst, Whitestone, L. I., in 1893. He said she was perfectly sane, but was deprived of her liberty at the option of her husband. The lawyer declared that a few weeks ago Dr. Harrison visited Oakes, and told him that his wife was in a condition to be released. About the same time, Lawyer Henry M. Heyman was instituting legal proceedings to secure the release of Mrs. Oakes. Mr. Kneeland said Mr. Oakes learned of these proceedings, and June 6 wrote Dr. Harrison, directing him to give Mrs. Oakes over to the custody of Dr. J. J. Kindred, of Darien, Conn. In compliance with this request, Mrs. Oakes was taken to Dr. Kindred's asylum in Darien, where she now is.

Lawyer Hill opposed the writ. He said Mr. Oakes was perfectly willing to care for his wife; that she was an habitual drunkard. parceration of his wife in Dr. D. A.

As nothing could be learned against him he was released.

At the Morgue Boscinsky was brought in under police guard, and made to lay his hand on the wound in the woman's head and declare his innocence. This the man did, and it was only one of the many sensational incidents of the case.

Atthough the case had apparently been dropped, yet Capt. Ennis, of the Stagg street station, has been doing what he could to clear up the mystery. Yesterday he arrested Boschinsky, his brother and Ida Bernstein. The last named, it is claimed, was intimate with Max in Europe, and four months after Mrs. Boschinsky's death, her husband was engaged to marry Ida.

He ran away after borrowing $100 of her money, but recently Miss Bernstein logited him at 415 Bushwick avenue, within a stone's throw of the scene of the murder.

within a stone's throw of the scene of the murder.

Boscinsky had sequestered himself from all his friends and was greatly surprised yesterday at receiving a summons to appear in the Second District Civil Court. The case came up yesterday and when Ida and the two Hoschinskys were departing. Detectives Becker and Kennedy arrested them and took them to the Stagg street station.

Capt. Ennis declined to-day to say what evidence he has against the prisones, but claims that it will be conclusive. It is believed that he expects to get an important statement from Miss Bernstein.

Mrs. R. R. Davis, a woman whom the police employed in a detective capacity at the time of the murder, was found by an "Evening World" reparter to-day at 1st Leonard street, Williamsburg. Besides her detective ability. Mrs. Davis claims to save a "pull" with the spirit world. She said that she had information which was proof positive of Boschinsky's guilt, and that she would be ready to give the facts in her possession to the police any time she was called upon.

Mrs. Davis would not disclose the nate the police any time she was called upon.

Mrs. Davis would not disclose the nature of the information she possessed, but said that it was conclusive and would lead to Boschinsky's conviction.

"I will yet dance on that man's grave," she declared to-day. "I have always known that he war the murdeler, but, of course, could say nothing without the sanction of the police. They must, however, arrest Boschinsky's third brother."

Detective-Sergeants Becker and Kennedy said to-day that they were fast weaving a web of incontrovertible evidence about Boschinsky, and that they expected to make an arrest to-day of a man whose knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the murder would go far towards fastening the crime upon Boschinsky.

Bandman avenue, to Elm street, to Soute street, to Merrick road, to New York avenue, to the South Village line, and on Washington street, Jamalca village, between South and Fulion streets.

In other words, the Company has secured privileges to build a road from the city line of Brooklyn, where are the termini of the Kings County "L" road, the Atlantic avenue division of the Long Island Railroad Company, the new Thirty-ninth street Terminal Company's route, and the Flynn syndicate lines to and through the town of Jamalca, and thence south to Far Rockaway, almost in a direct line.

From Far Rockaway it is proposed to extend to Rockaway, consents of two-thirds of the property-owners having been obtained. Other extensions, as proposed, run parallel with the Long Island Railroad through the south side, through Springfield. Valley Stream, Rockville Centre, Oceanville, Baldwins, Milburn, Freeport, Merrick, New Bridge, Seaford and on to Babylon. Franchises for these extensions have not yet been secured. The Company, it is said, has proposed to the people of Hempstead to widen a macadamized roadway fifteen feet, and maintain it free of cost to the townspeople forever if they are permitted to lay their tracks at one side.

The officers who were elected yesterday were: A. R. Hart, President, Brooklyn; Charles H. Mullin, Vice-President, Mount Holly Springs, Pa.; Clarence Wolf, Treasurer, Philadelphia, Pa.; J.C. Von Arx, Secretary, and Jere A. Wernberg, Counsel.

President Hart gave out the following statement:

"We shall begin construction as soon as all these preliminary details are completed. We mean business, have a capital of $90,000, with more behind it, and none of our stock is for sale. It is our purpose to give real rapid transit and a greatly reduced cost-just what Long Islanders want. Of course, we expect some opposition—not from the people—but we expect to win.

SEVERE STORM IN CHICAGO. Lightning Kills a Man-Close Call for Two Policemen.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 16 -A severe electrical rain and hall storm passed over the city yesterday afternoon, doing coasil-erable damage. Lightning struck the top erable damage. Lightning struck the top of the Teutonic building, ten stories high, and knocked a fifteen-pound plees of granite from the cornice to the pavement, where it narrowly missed two policemen.

The thunder and noise of the falling stone caused several horses to run away. Gottleb Gotski, a laborer, was matantly kilfed by lightning and several houses on the west and north sides of the city were struck and damaged.
